It was a trip I'll never forget. For me, the chubby 6-year-old girl it was a truly special day! I was amazed by everything that surrounded me. My parents, on the other hand, couldn't keep their eyes off the road. If they just turned their heads a little, they would have seen a way more interesting scenery. Mountains fading into the distance, tall royal pine trees. I even saw a deer who, confused by the strange noise, ran off as soon as we approached it. "Mommy, look, a deer!" I said, desperately begging for attention. But they just answered with a simple "That's great - Honey". To me, this reaction seemed bizzor bizarre!

As we then finally stopped, I was so eager to find that deer that I, ignorant of the advice given to me earlier, ran rushed into the forest. The woods that seemed so silent were now filled with the bewildering sounds of animal life. Even the trees went on and stole my green scarf. But I didn't care. After such a challenging run I ~~actuat~~ finally managed to get a ~~glance~~ look of the long lost deer. But then another problem arose: I was ~~lost~~ lost.

After some hopeless cries I suddenly heard a ~~war~~ voice: "Martha! Where are you?" I saw her long blond hair, her bright clothes, her soft voice. It was my mom! Crying I fell into her arms as she brought me home.

As we returned, I ~~as~~ was curious how she managed to find me so easily. The answer shocked me: "The deer, he showed me the way."
